Share In Shawnee

Progress is always better attained through the sharing of our talents, assets, and selves. Shawnee can be proud of its reputation gained by this means.

A school is the hub from which radiate the spokes of local activity, and the backward or forward movement of any community is mirrored in its educational facilities. With the passing of the bond issue last fall, Shawnee moves onward.

In keeping with these rapidly advancing times, the senior class has not selected a dated theme for its annual, but has attempted to "spotlight" major school events through the "modern medium."

We hope, as you read the 1954 QUILNA, that it will cause you to recall the memories of your "share in Shawnee."

FACULTY

Superintendent

C. G. LAPPIN

Oberlin College—B.A.

Ohio State University—M.A.

Shawnee has always been recognized as a school promoting perpetual progress. Largely responsible for this fine reputation is Mr. C. G. Lappin, whose foresight and executive abilities have been proven in the development of superior educational facilities accompanying the growth of the community. Upon completion of the new high school, one more step in the dream of twenty-eight years of leadership will be realized.

Mr. Lappin is a keen judge of people, and his likable personality and quick sense of humor add to the knack of presenting the Shawnee educational program to the citizens of the community.

Principal

O. C. KNECHT

Bowling Green State University—B.S.

Indiana University—M.S.

United States Government

That old joke, "It wasn't the school; it was the 'principal' of the thing," is definitely disputed in the person of Shawnee Principal O. C. Knecht. Good-natured ability, true willingness to help, and an ever-ready wit seem always to combine in satisfactorily solving the many problems brought to him. His capability, fairness, and sincerity, shown in the capacities served as principal and coordinator of high school activities, teacher of United States government, and director of athletics are admired by students and faculty alike. Through these means he manages to keep in close contact with all phases of school life.

School Board

SEATED: Carl Settlemire, president.

STANDING: Fred Bunke, Horace Shock, Paul Lytle, clerk; Lyle Lee.

Through hard work and good judgment, these men shape the destiny of Shawnee high school.

Looking toward the future.

Seniors Kerr, Tecklenberg, Loyer, Van Meter. Advisers Crites, Hughes.

Now, at the end of our high school educational career, the members of the class of 1954 can look back upon an outstanding record of achievement. "All-out" participation in the various organizations and sports of the school, the class play, the many activities connected with graduation—and yes, even some studying—kept us all moving at an accelerated pace. We have worked hard in this, our senior year, to prepare ourselves for the challenges and responsibilities of life.

Seniors

Dignified seniors in assembly

The whole-hearted cooperation extended by all the members during their junior year on class money-making projects made the prom a 'big' success. The outstanding feature of the year was the presentation of the comedy, "A Little Honey," which packed a full house. Other projects were the selling of booster badges at games; pecans and Christmas cards during the yule-tide season. According to the scholastic record, many of our classmates placed very high in the annual District-State Scholarship Tests.

Through all these activities, the class was guided by president, Bob Shutt; vice-president, Howard Graham; secretary, Vera Johnson; and treasurer, John Wright.

Seniors

By our sophomore year we considered ourselves past masters in the business of being a high school student. We were proud of our position in high school, and rightly so. Many students from Perry joined our ranks and added talents and abilities to the class.

President for the sophomore year was Howard Graham; vice-president, Bob Shutt; secretary, Joyce Tecklenberg; treasurer, Maryella Murphy.

In our 'locker confabs' the weighty problems of the world are solved.

With the closing of summer vacation in 1950, we returned to school to find ourselves freshmen. Freshmen! Now surely the world lay at our feet and we set out to prove it with all the energy we could muster. We took part in all phases of school life and determined to outshine the upper-classmen, whom we secretly admired. Under the leadership of president Larry Crites, vice-president Donald Heman, secretary Judy Shaw, and treasurer Betty Miller, we quickly passed through our freshman year.

Best Wishes Judy Shaw

Seniors

Da-de-da-de-da-da; Vote For Judy!

In 1948 we emerged from grade school and were thoroughly convinced that we were at last men and women of the world. The seventh grade class, staffed by Dick Tomlinson, president; Ann Van Meter, vice-president; Jean Lotz, secretary; and Jim Bradford, treasurer, quickly moved into the eighth grade position with Ann Van Meter, president; Dick Tomlinson, vice-president; Jim Bradford, secretary; and Betty Miller, treasurer.

How well we remember the thrill of being part of high school activities, attending the assemblies and pep sessions, using the senior playground, visiting the library, and eating at "the store." These privileges brought with them responsibility and we began the slow, hard process of growing up.

The four class officers, as members of the junior play cast, enact an imaginary scene on the stage of the comedy, "THE BIG SURPRISE."

McComb, Allion, Downhower, Hefner.

Junior Class

This year has been a time of hard work and careful planning for Shawnee's juniors. Class spirit, when nourished by success in numerous projects, has thrived as never before. Among their undertakings was the purchase of class rings, an important event for everyone. With thought for the production of a memorable prom, class members whole-heartedly supported money - making activities. Their greatest achievement was "The Big Surprise," a three act comedy presented in November. The sale of Christmas cards, the year-round collection of tax stamps, and performance as a carnival "clean-up detail" also increased the treasury.

In addition to class activities, these juniors participated in all of Shawnee's organizations and special events. Music and athletics claimed their share of talent as class members steadily improved their skill.

But surpassing all else was the growth experienced during the past nine months—growth as an organization and as individuals.

Electing a new treasurer.

Sophomore Class

The class of 1956 will long remember their sophomore year and the many new friends acquired. As a welcoming gesture for new classmates they began the year with a class party. As this was intended as a get-acquainted affair, the fun was informal and very lively.

Collecting tax stamps was a major project and was backed by the entire class. As preparation for their junior year, the sophomores made plans to purchase their class rings. In 1953-54 a strong framework was built for the work and activities that lie ahead.

Getting a prom "head start" with tax stamps.
Smith, Marshall, Bowsher, Sarakaitis, Umbaugh

With unbounded enthusiasm, the "frosh" began early preparation for their junior prom by collecting tax stamps.

The class is eagerly looking forward to future years in the halls of Shawnee when they will be assuming the student leadership of the school.

In the realm of music at Shawnee, this year will perhaps be best remembered by the seniors, who constituted a good share of its organizations.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Harold I. Beckett, officially opened its season with WHEN THE CHRIST CHILD CAME, an extremely modern Christmas cantata. This, plus several engagements with Lima service clubs, kept the choir busy until contest time.

The varsity groups, also under the direction of Mr. Beckett, had an equally rewarding season, with the boys presenting a concert in February and the girls performing several times in assembly. The two groups journeyed to Perry school for a "shakedown" concert. On this trip the girls did more than justice to Tchaikovsky's NUTCRACKER SUITE, and the boys rewrote "Erie Canal" (during performance).

All three of these organizations came into contest time perhaps the most seasoned of any in recent years, thanks to Mr. Beckett's arrangement of shows and the veteran corps around whom they were built. This, along with after school rehearsals, made Shawnee the school to beat in the contests. And it was the general feeling among members of these groups that they could out-sing and out-place anyone sent against them.

Eisteddfod time came and Shawnee, as in past years, was right in there fighting all the way. The numbers sung by the three groups were "The Song of the Jolly Roger" for the boys; "Open Thy Blue Eyes" and "The Piper from Over the Way" for the girls, and "No Man is an Island" and "Madame Jeanette" for the A Cappella Choir.

To the seniors, these contests meant more than usual, for they would never sing in an Allen county high school eisteddfod or in a district contest again. Therefore they made it their business to try to do the best job ever done by a Shawnee music department.

The Shawnee band started the season with early morning rehearsals, and the result was most satisfactory. Marching at the football games and for parades kept the band stepping in their new white spats (courtesy of Dads' Club). With the usual spring concert, and district competition at Ada, the concert band had a busy year.

Very faithfully the pep band supplied music for the home basketball games, and the dance band, which (we think) is getting as good as Guy Lombardo's, played for the after-game dances and other school and community affairs.

Members also constituted the ensembles that played for various events, and entered in district competition.

With Games, Concert, Competition

"Our National Anthem" . . . the crowd rises, hushed, hats off, hands to heart . . . the flag is slowly raised as the band begins the familior strains of "Oh, say can you see . . . "

"Presenting—The Shawnee High School Marching Band! Connie Lay, drum marjorette, Frederick Mills, director."

All this would not have been possible if Mr. Mills had not given his time and energy. Along with class lessons was the challenging of another player for a higher position in the challenger's own instrument category. Each played deciding passages, and the band then voted as to whether the change was warranted. All this added up to more practicing and an "on-the-beat" band.

Band officers for the year were Howard Graham, president; Joyce Tecklenberg, vice-president; Jane Lotz, secretary; Jeannie Hughes, treasurer; Phyllis Clark and Ann Van Meter, librarians.

It was the attitude of cooperation among themselves and Mr. Mills which changed the sorrows in practice to the joys at performance. Clever routines added much to half-time splendor.

Shawnee's orchestra is one to be very proud of; it has presented many enjoyable performances. Among these were the ones at the junior and senior class plays, and at baccalaureate and commencement. The group was featured in the Romberg-Herbert concert in February with the mixed chorus and took part in district competition.

In Action

In the darkened auditorium with a gaily decorated stage, the A Cappella Choir presented the cantata, When the Christ Child Came, for the Christmas assembly. This impressive musical interpretation ended 1953 on a fine note.

All aboar-r-d for Perry school where the varsity glee clubs gave a mid-winter concert.

Quilna Staff Strove To Spotlight

"Do you have any subscription blanks?—Anyone have any spare snaps[illegible].?—Does everyone have his write-up in?"

These questions flew around all year while the Quilna staff was getting the "dummy" copy ready to "go to press." Many difficulties and obstacles were encountered and overcome in the course of completing the book. Whenever any member of the staff had a spare minute, he could usually be found in the library workroom or the commercial room, putting the finishing touches on some of his work or redoing it according to new instructions. The business staff had some pretty rainy days on which to go into town to dig up ads to finance the book, and the editorial staff had its rough times in getting the book together, but at last it is all finished.

It was a lot of work but a lot of fun, too, and the seniors hope you enjoy reading it as much as they enjoyed preparing it for you.

Chief Staff Worked To Maintain Titl

Once a month, amid great activity, The Chief emerged from the little room next to the study hall to speak and inquire. The staff worked hard to retain the title, "Best Mimeograph Paper in Northwest Ohio."

Under the leadership of the editor, Joyce Tecklenberg, the big journalistic change was made in the form of additional columns, "fresher" news, and the attempt for more coverage of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. events, rather than exclusively extra-curricular happenings.

Let's take a look at what made Shawnee's voicebox "tick."

On Monday morning following publication, the staff was found assembled. Betty, Jeannie and Beverly handed out assignments. Joyce, and perhaps Mr. Hughes, gave criticism and "pep" talks.

As the last Friday of the month drew nearer, smoke rolled from the Chief room and Jet and Jay set up "Smoke Signals." Adam Injun called pow-wows with his sports writers. The dummy took shape as a steady stream of copy ran to and from Miss Gorman's typists. Elaine's clan labored over stencils to finish the art work on schedule.

Next, Nancy's ink-smeared crew rolled the finished product from the "mimeo" machine, and after being stapled, into the waiting arms of Dick, Mr. Ulrick's lieutenant.

After distribution, it was "30" for another issue of The Chief.

Future Homemakers of America

This versatile organization, which meets once a month, has had a very successful year. To add to their many accomplishments, the group decided to become florists by taking up the project of selling "mums" for the homecoming game. The proceeds from this project helped finance the annual F.H.A.-F.F.A. banquet in March.

Proving they really could cook, these future homemakers supplied over three hundred candied apples for the annual Shawnee carnival in November.

They became actresses for a night with the presentation of a play for the P.T.A. The object of the play was to illustrate how the girls are prepared for their future roles as homemakers.

To liven up the holiday spirit in December, the girls had a Christmas dinner served by the sophomores of the organization. After dinner a gift exchange was held to spread the spirit of good will, followed by the singing of Christmas carols. Starting the new year off with a bang, the F.H.A. and F.F.A. enjoyed a real, "honest-to-goodness" square dance.

The highlight of the year's activities was the second annual F.H.A.-F.F.A. banquet in March.

Future Farmers of America

Founded in 1930 to provide boys with a better understanding of farming, the Future Farmers of America grew until this year there are twenty-seven members.

Under the direction of John T. Starling, their activities this year were varied and numerous. They farmed fifty-five acres of land, harvesting soy beans, corn, and wheat; joined Bluffton to attend the International Livestock Show in Chicago, and toured the New Idea plant in Coldwater.

Shawnee F.F.A. had a large showing at the 1953 Allen county and Ohio State fairs, and won the gold medals in the District Public Speaking and Parliamentary Procedure Contests. A parent and son banquet was held in March. National F.F.A. convention in Kansas was attended by two members, and three of the boys represented the club at the camp held in Carroll County, Ohio.

Chosen as chapter queen was sophomore, Garnet Kerr, who will represent Shawnee in the contest at the state fair this August.

The F.F.A. is excellent vocational training and the members tried to make the most of their opportunities.

One of the most enthusiastic groups in school is the Hi-Y, composed of 74 boys from grades ten through twelve.

The projects which they supported this year were supplying the school with six rubbish cans, donations to world service, and a "March of Dimes" dance. Cake raffles were held at every home basketball game.

Their own basketball team, which met every Thursday night, had tournaments with Lima Hi-Y teams in March. The boys took a trip to Cincinnati in May.

The Spanish Club, open to all former members and students studying Spanish, started off the year with the election of officers. Among the year's activities were a hayride, Christmas party, and the initiation of first year students.

Under the direction of Senor Baca, El Club Espanol corresponded with high school students of Peru, Mexico, Chile, Argentina, Brazil, and Cuba.

Librarians Rendered Valuable Service

While hunting reference material or books for pastime reading, Shawnee's students were greatly aided by the industrious librarians. With the help of Mrs. Waltz, faculty librarian, each member of this group completed five periods of work per week and ten written lessons, thus earning credit applied towards graduation, and enjoyment in serving others.

Betty Miller Reigned As 1953 Homecoming Queen

Bright lights, flowers, band music, a football squad, and three nervous girls highlighted the 1953 homecoming game.

Wasn't Queen Betty pretty in her sparkling crown and carrying the bouquet of yellow mums in her arms? Betty received the honor of being the third Shawnee homecoming queen in the Miller family. Sisters, Ruth Ellen in 1945 and Mary in 1948, also were crowned.

Betty and her two attendants, Elaine and Vera, were nominated by the football squad. The queen was then chosen by the student body. The snazzy yellow convertibles in which the girls and the former queens rode were owned and driven by two Korean prisoners-of-war.

Half-time featured the band, which performed in a darkened stadium. Flashy boot lights and batons glittered from nowhere as a spooky rendition of DRAGNET was heard.

Not minding a 14-7 defeat by the Wapak team, all went to the elementary cafeteria to join in the homecoming dance.

"Miss Senior" Crowned Carnival Queen

A mixture of confetti, crowds, and various activities was the annual carnival, which ended a big financial and fun success. After the crowning of Queen Judy, the mixed chorus—with the theme, "College Capers"—gave a fine auditorium show.

Football again dominated the varsity sports at Shawnee this year with one of the biggest turnouts in the school's history. Starting two weeks before school last September, 47 boys got into shape for the Lima Olympia preview. Continuing into November, the boys had o lot of fun with all the work that goes into developing a smoothly-functioning football team.

Wait Till Next Year!

In its first year as a member of the Western Buckeye League, although not taking the championship, the Shawnee football team gained experience and ruggedness.

Highlights of the season were the swamping of the Spencerville and Celina elevens. The Indians dropped two close games to Bellefontaine and Lima St. Rose.

Individual honors went to Rubin Sims, who unanimously won a spot on the all-league first team as defensive linebacker; and to Gene Mauk, for being announced as "most valuable" player on the Shawnee team at WIMA's annual football banquet. David Mann, in his fourth year of managing was commended by head coach Byerly as being the "hardest working, most efficient, finest" manager he had ever had.

By losing only five seniors, the team will have eighteen letter men returning. With this advantage the Indians should be near the top of the league standings next year.

In their second year in the Western Buckeye League, the Indians, with a league record of five wins and two losses, gained a second place tie with St. Marys. The team was built around returning lettermen Jim Redmond, Terry Shackelford, and George Wall, a transfer from Lima South. After losing their second league game, the Indians went on to win four out of their next five games, including on upset victory over St. Marys.

George Wall and Terry Shackelford earned berths on the Western Buckeye league "All Star" team. In the district tournament at Bluffton, the Shawnee cagers met defeat in the first game at the hands of St. Marys.

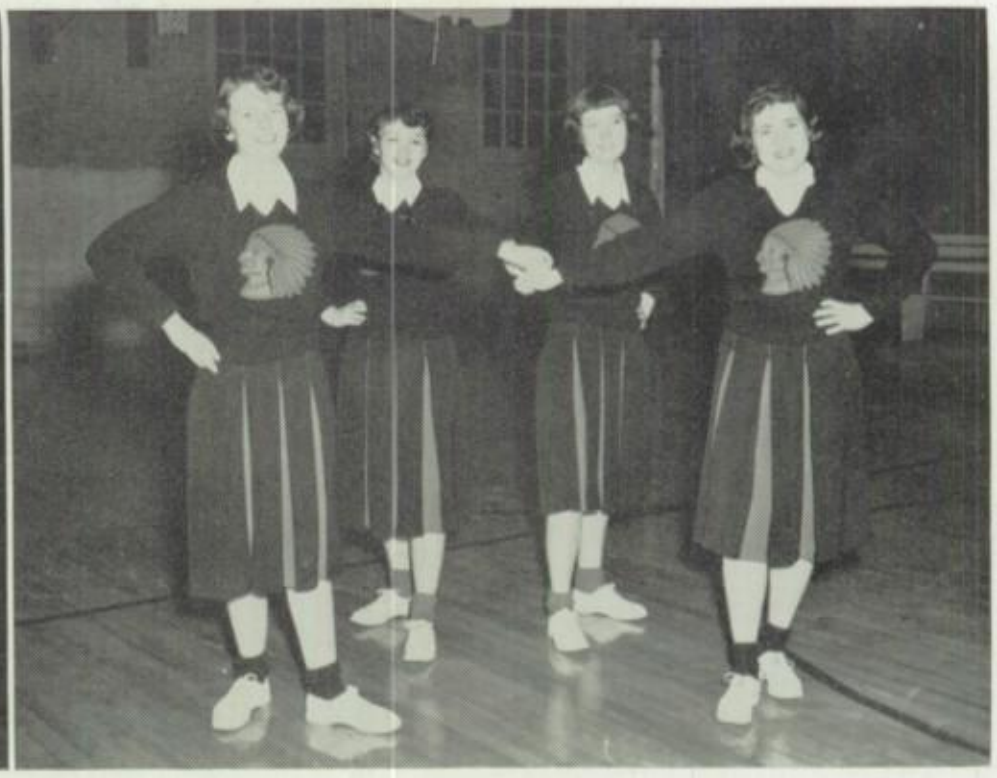
Cheerleaders Sped Teams To Victory

Chief Bill Giffin, Squaw Shirley Lance



Sue Allion, Elaine Miller, Judy Shaw, Jane Bowsher

"Get it"—"Come on, let's go!"—"Whew, that was a close one." some of these expressions could have been heard coming from the cheerleaders and the pep club during the 1953-54 season.

Sue Allion and Elaine Miller were back for their second year while Judy Shaw and Jane Bowsher joined the cheerleading squad for the first time. Also added new in '53 was Miss Reinhardt, heading the Pep Club. Bill Giffin and Shirley Lance continued as Chief and Squaw.

New megaphones and uniforms were a special feature for the cheerleaders, and the exciting trip to Mariemont topped the traveling list of these Shawnee pepsters.

Cross Country

Cross country, a rugged long distance team race, came to Shawnee as the "Indians'" newest varsity sport.

Those earning letters in rolling up a record of two wins and three losses for the charter organization were Dick Plummer, Dick Tomlinson, Jackie Accountius, Jon Uncapher and Tom Myers. Myer's time, 11 minutes, 30 seconds, for the two mile race is the mark future runners will strive to break.

KNEELING—Plummer, Tomlinson. STANDING—Myers, Accountius, Uncapher, Mr. Ulrick, coach.

In addition to five season contests, Coach Ulrick's "harriers" entered the district cross country meet at Toledo, even though one man short of a full team. Illness reduced the group to four, putting Shawnee out of the team standings.

Accountius, Tomlinson, Uncapher, and Myers compose the first local Century Club, an exclusive honor for members of the squad who run 100 miles during the season.
